Notice Requirements and Addressing the Correct Creditor

Attorneys Gregory A. Holbus and Jon A. Olson will be lecturing the Bankruptcy, Insolvency, and Creditors' Rights Section of the Wisconsin State Bar on November 9, 2010 at the Lou Jones Breakfast Club. The topic is designed to address issues in serving and noticing creditors properly in a variety of scenarios, meeting the requirements set by the bankruptcy code and bankruptcy rules, and pinning down creditors that seem to deliberately hide themselves in complex corporate structures and other legal loopholes.

The outline can be accessed directly at <http://www.holbuslaw.com/For-Clients/LJ-Nov2010-Lecture.shtml>. Otherwise, you can visit my web-site and click on " November 2010 Lou Jones Lecture" under the Useful Information header.

The Lou Jones Breakfast Club is a monthly meeting of attorneys and other judicial personnel to discuss current events and developments in bankruptcy and other related areas of law, usually for one free CLE credit.
